- any decrease in the amount of the net return to the Issuer

then and in such circumstances, the Issuer shall give written notice thereof (“the Change in Law Notice”) to the Programme Preference Shareholders. - (iv) any compliance by a Programme Preference Shareholder with any reserve, capital adequacy, cash ratio, special deposit or liquidity requirement (or any other similar requirement) in respect of this Agreement, or any agreement pursuant to which the Programme Preference Shares were issued or acquired in addition to those payable by a Programme Preference Shareholder from the Issue Date

- any decrease in the amount of the net return to such Programme Preference Shareholder then and in such circumstances, such Programme Preference Shareholder shall give written notice thereof (“the Change in Law Notice”) to the

Change in Tax Law

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if there is any Change in Tax Law, which results in the Preference Dividends received by a Programme Preference Shareholder being Taxed, and if such change takes place before the Final Redemption Date then, on receipt by the Issuer of a written notice (“the Notice”) and an auditor’s report from such Programme Preference Shareholder that such a Change in Tax Law has occurred, the Issuer shall be entitled to elect to

- pay the Adjusted Rate to the affected Programme Preference Shareholder from the date which is the later of the date of receipt of the Notice and the date upon which such Change in Tax Law becomes effective; or
- on not less than 10 (ten) days revocable written notice to the affected Programme Preference Shareholder, redeem the Preference Shares held by the affected Programme Preference Shareholder in full at the Early Redemption Amount (in which instance any Scheduled Preference Dividends shall not take into account the Adjusted Rate) on the date which is the later of 14 (fourteen) days after the date of receipt of the Notice and the date upon which such Change in Tax Law becomes effective. In addition the Issuer shall declare a Breakage Dividend per affected Programme Preference Share on the day prior to the Applicable Redemption Date and pay the Breakage Cost Dividend to the affected Programme Preference Shareholder on the Applicable Redemption Date; or

In addition the Issuer shall declare a Breakage Dividend per Programme Preference Share held by the affected Programme Preference Shareholder on the day prior to the Applicable Redemption Date and pay the Breakage Cost Dividend to the affected Programme Preference Shareholder on the Applicable Redemption Date.

An auditor's report setting out reasonable details of the applicable Change in Tax Law, and resulting calculations of the required adjustments, provided by the affected Programme Preference Shareholder shall in the absence of manifest error be prima facie proof as to any adjustment required as described above.

4) EURIBOR replacement

On or after the occurrence of a Benchmark Rate Replacement Event, the Dividend Rate shall be the Replacement Benchmark Rate once determined by the Calculation Agent and announced via SENS.

5) Change in the Hedging Costs

On the Repricing Date a Programme Preference Shareholder that holds all the Programme Preference Shares in issue shall determine whether a change in its Hedging Costs has occurred. Should a change in the Hedging Costs have occurred, then such Programme Preference Shareholder shall deliver a notice (“the Change in Hedging Cost Notice”) to the Issuer and state the change in the Margin (“Adjusted Margin”), calculated upwards or downwards to place the Programme Preference Shareholder in the same economic position in respect of the Programme Preference Shares as it would have been had the change in Hedging Costs not occurred.

A certificate by a manager of the Programme Preference Shareholder shall accompany the Change in Hedging Cost Notice, which certificate shall, in the absence of manifest error, be prima facie proof of the Adjusted Margin required, and the date from which the Adjusted Margin is required to take effect, in order to place the Programme Preference Shareholder in the same economic position as it would have been had the change in Hedging Costs not occurred.

The Issuer shall then be entitled to elect to:

- pay the Adjusted Margin to the Programme Preference Shareholder from the date stipulated in the abovementioned certificate; or
- on not less than 10 (ten) days’ revocable written notice to the Programme Preference Shareholder, redeem the Programme Preference Shares held by the Programme Preference Shareholder in full at the Early Redemption Amount) in which instance any Scheduled Preference Dividends shall not take into account the Adjusted Margin).
